Bridge Housing's constitution provides a written 'roadmap' for how we run our organisation. Under our constitution, tenants and people who are interested in Bridge Housing's objectives (known in our constitution as 'objects') can become Company members.

Who can join?

To become a member you must have an interest in Bridge Housing's Objects (see below), complete and sign the Membership Form which says you agree with the Objects and you will attend at least one general meeting a year.

Bridge Housing Limited Objects state:

The objects of the Company shall be the direct relief of poverty, distress and helplessness by:

- the provision of secure, affordable accommodation for those people who find it difficult to compete in the private rental market or who are experiencing a housing crisis
- assisting tenants to gain access to other community resources and services; increasing the amount and quality of affordable housing stock available for low income earners and;
- doing all things as may be included or ancillary to the attainment of these objects from Bridge Housing Constitution Clause 2: Objects and Purpose of the Company

Why become a Member?

Becoming a member of Bridge Housing Limited means you can have certain rights and obligations, such as having the right to vote at our Annual General Meeting (AGM). These rights and obligations are set out in our constitution.
